Yes, We have a constituted R&R committee with an objective to identify the real potential of Employees and recognize with regards. This will also solve the purpose of bringing transparency and more effective in R&R program. The core idea is to recognize superior performance to further motivate employees and also create role models.

Alongside, we have Chairman's challenge award, wherein employees are challenged to come up with innovative solutions to real business problems. Winners get the opportunity to visit abroad and watch an international sports event along with the CMD and CEO. All these contribute to reinforce positive behaviour and drives continued excellence
