Yes.

We encourage our female employees directly and indirectly to pursue academic and professional courses. We cover the expenses incurred either through a loan scheme awarded by the company to deserving employees, and also by means of outright grants for education given by the Sujata Sesh Foundation, an organisation run by the principal shareholders of the company, that does outstanding work in areas related to female empowerment, sanitation, education, civic consciousness etc.